Growing in Holiness

Hello dear friends,

I want to address the subject of "Growing in Holiness." Scripture clearly commands all believers to be holy:

"But as He who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, because it is written, Be holy, for I am holy" (1 Peter 1:15-16).

God is holy and He calls us to be holy as well. To be sure, God's holiness and ours is not the same. He is absolutely, perfectly, uniquely, and unchangeably holy. We are imperfectly, partially, and progressively holy. Growing in holiness is a matter of direction rather than perfection. Believers are expected to make progress toward personal holiness until we get to heaven, and only then will we be perfectly holy.

Growing in holiness is a lifelong process of becoming more like Christ. This process begins at our conversion to Christ and continues until our glorification in heaven. The process of growing in holiness is called sanctification, a biblical word. It's a process that requires God's grace and our willing cooperation. Perhaps the text that best describes our sanctification process is Philippians 2:12-13, "Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; for it is God who works in you both to will and to do for His good pleasure." In this text we find a command ("work out your own salvation"), a motivation ("with fear and trembling"), an assurance ("God who works in you"), and a goal ("both to will and to do for His good pleasure"). Putting this all together, we learn that growing in holiness involves cooperation and dependence on God. We can't do it without Him, and He will not do it without us.

Are you growing in holiness?
 Are you working out your own salvation? Are you depending on God to work in you to accomplish His purpose? Are you cooperating with God in this process? In next month's newsletter I look forward to writing on the means of grace that God gives us to grow in holiness. May the Lord continue to bless and use you for His glory!

With love and gratitude,
 Pastor Stan

THIS MONTH IN CHURCH HISTORY

According to a tradition that goes back at least to the fifth century, Herod Antipas beheaded John the Baptist on this day, 29 August ca. 30 at the request of Salome. John's disciples took his body and buried it. Tradition also says that later some of his remains were carried to Alexandria, Egypt where Christians placed them in a church specially built to honor the forerunner of Jesus.

1647

The Westminster Confession of Faith went to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, which adopted it without amendment on August 29.

1778

Augustus Montague Toplady, the writer of "Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me", died in England on August 11, 1778 from tuberculosis at 37 years old.

1792

August 25, 1792 – John Thomas writes a letter to Rev. John Rippon in which he raises the possibility of English Baptists missionizing the Indian people. This letter originated upon Thomas's return to London from years of secular work in India. Later, on January 9, 1793, the "Particular Baptist Society for the Propagation of the Gospel Amongst the Heathen" (i.e. Baptist Missionary Society) agreed to send John Thomas and William Carey to India as its first two missionaries.

1821

Reverend William C. Blair, the first Sunday school missionary of the United States, begins his work. In his first year, he will travel twenty-five hundred miles, mostly on horseback, visiting six states, founding sixty-one Sunday schools, inspecting thirty-five others, establishing four adult schools and six tract societies. When later giving his report, he will apologize that illness hindered him from doing more. The Sunday and Adult School Union will be so impressed, however, that they will hire additional missionaries.

WARNING! FALSE TEACHER - ANDY STANLEY

Romans 16:17-18

AVOID

In March 7, 2022 Andy Stanley preached a sermon in which he argued that the Bible is not needed for the advancement of the gospel. He states that Christianity does not hinge on whether or not the Bible is true. He explicitly teaches that Christians are not expected to believe in the Bible. He argues that only one of the four gospels in the New Testament needs to be reliable for Christianity to be worth pursuing.

Andy Stanley is fervently against the Old Testament and believes in "unhitching" the Old Testament from the New Testament. This was the primary teaching of his book, "Unhitched". Andy Stanley has most recently been vocal about promoting the idea of homosexual Christians, even claiming that they love Jesus more than Bible believing Christians.
